Dear Friends,

“The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son....”

- Matthew 22:2

In six weeks, we will celebrate the Feast of Christ the King (meaning Advent begins in seven weeks). But it's never out of season to think of the kingdom of heaven – both as it is breaking in on the horizon of our lifetime and as it exists in its own right beyond our dimensions.

We're reminded to be prepared for it. The abundance of God's riches is the reason St. Paul can say that God will supply whatever the need of the Philippians might be in response to their generosity to him. It's the source of the vision in the Prophet Isaiah, too.

The riches of heaven are not promised here on earth, however. This becomes a problem for some people who expect God to be a fairy-tale character who will provide everything now. The prosperity gospel preaches this. There are riches in this life, but they are more often of a spiritual nature.

Let us support each other in our faith and prayer and in charitable works.

October is Respect Life Month and the Month of the Rosary. Visit the website of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops for information on Faithful Citizenship, Pope Francis' new encyclical Fratelli Tutti, and other matters of current interest at usccb.org.

With love, prayers and gratitude,

Father Bob Edwards
